To you Mrs. Florence W. Hutchinson, dedicate The Grove for 1942.

Foreword

Since so much of the earth's natural beauty has been ground to bits under the heel of tyranny and force, it behooves each one of us to stop and look more closely at the things of beauty which we consider commonplace. Oregon, unlike much of the world, has been blessed with more than its portion of majestic scenes and grandeur. Be observing and appreciative.

The Grove for 1942 presents . . .

*A welcome sight as the Weeks before the torch was applied to "the biggest and best bonfire yet," the homecoming committee spent many sleepless nights working out all the various details which makes for a successful Homecoming.

The pep rally on Friday afternoon was its usual noisy self. With the students full of more vim and vigor than ever, Dallas, Monmouth, and Independence rocked and reeled from the cheers of the caravan.

Even though the O.C.E. "stalwarts" bowed before the Reed College eleven 18 to 13, it did not dampen the ardor of the students and alumni who gathered in the Physical Education Building Saturday night for the climax, the Homecoming dance. Music was furnished by Dick Adam's orchestra which came down from Corvallis.

Everywhere on the campus groups of old grads could be seen talking and recalling the days long gone. Come Sunday they packed their bags and headed back to work, tired in body but revived in spirit by the weekend of fun amid old friends and old surroundings.

The two people who were responsible for such a successful Homecoming were Alma Jean Watkins and Barbara Ruef.

Here's to O.C.E.—drink her down!

Music was furnished by John Lamberty and his ten piece orchestra from Portland.

Activities

A. M. S.

With the men going into our armed forces at such a rapid pace during the past year, it kept the officers busy checking to see who, if anyone was left. Despite the large drop in the masculine element at O.C.E., the Associated Men Students sponsored activities each term for the benefit of the student body.

It is the task of the executive council of the Associated Women Students to consider and provide for the interests of all the women on the O.C.E. campus. Annual funfest is the Sadie Hawkins weekend. New this year is the Activity File which is a complete activity record of every woman student on the campus. Also new are the all-girl dances every term. For one evening the girls exclude the men to become better acquainted and have fun together.

A. W. S.

A. S. O. C. E.

Even with world conditions as unstable as they have been during this past year, the executive officers and student council have done a commendable piece of work as heads of the Associated Students. It has been particularly trying for them to try and give the student body a well rounded program with the finances as uncertain as they have been because of the decreased enrollment.

The seven commissioners for this year were: Eva Neeley, entertainment; Wilbur Nance, publications; Helen Wiest, publicity; Kathrynne Stasek, social; Herbert Schlappi, clubs; Barbara Ruef, women's athletics; and Richard Taylor, men's athletics.

Phi Beta Sigma

Phi Beta Sigma, a national educational honorary fraternity for men and women, had a very successful year despite the uncertainties caused by a nation at war. Members of this organization are outstanding students who have earned a grade point average of 2.5 or better for two consecutive terms and are active in campus affairs.

During National Education Week Phi Beta Sigma sponsored an assembly and brought Mr. Oscar Hayter to the campus to speak to the student body. This scholastic fraternity also sponsored numerous social activities throughout the year.

Because so many of the members left school to join the United States armed forces, the membership roll has fluctuated a great deal this year. The fellows who are serving Uncle Sam are: Chet Hogan, Robert Hayden, Hal Hoon, Otto Meyer, Owen Stollard, and Walter Jaross.

Theta Delta Phi is an honorary fraternity, national in scope, whose aims and ideals is the furthering of higher scholastic standards. In addition to this, the fraternity enters whole-heartedly into the school's social program during the school year by sponsoring many events for the enjoyment of the entire student body.

Sigma Epsilon Pi

Sigma Epsilon Pi, women's scholastic honorary, has for its purpose the cultivation and promotion of scholarship and leadership.

Thirty-four new members were initiated during the year, bringing the spring term membership to sixty-seven. The eligibility rules require one to complete at least fifteen credit hours one term and earn A and B grades in all courses.

The initiation ceremonies of the fall term were held on Wednesday, October 22, in the Music Room of Jessica Todd Hall. The speaker at the banquet which followed was Miss Beryl Holt, a member of the Salem High School faculty and president of the Oregon division of the American Association of University Women.

The winter term initiation took place Tuesday, February 3. After the ceremonies Mrs. Dessa Hofstetter, librarian of the college, spoke about her experiences as county librarian of Malheur County. There was no banquet, but refreshments were served.

The State Board of Higher Education

The growth and progress effected in the Oregon College of Education since the legislative authorization in 1929 of the unification program for the state-supported higher educational institutions owe much to all the fine citizens of Oregon, who in these thirteen years, have done service as members of the State Board of Higher Education. The legislative act of 1929 provided for a Board of nine members, appointed by the Governor for nine-year terms, with power to govern and control the State System of Higher Education. Doubtless many times the task is not easy; credit and honors are due these directors and their executive officer, the Chancellor, for their courage and perseverance as they labor to provide an educational program as stimulating and complete as Oregon's resources allow.

The Grove adds its voice to the many in expressing sincere gratitude to the members of our 1942 State Board for their wise and splendid leadership.

Football . . . 1941

Relying on a very effective passing attack, the O.C.E. Wolves enjoyed a successful season, winning three out of four games.

"Rubber-arm" Chet Hogan was always dangerous with his deadly passing. "Butch" O'Conner, lone letterman from 1940's undefeated and untied aggregation, played stellar ball throughout the season, and was rewarded by being elected the most valuable player by his teammates.

Coach Al Cox fielded a team that consisted mainly of freshmen and other lower classmen. Prospects should be brought for the 1942 season.

Basketball . . . 1941-42 Season

The Oregon College of Education's basketball team enjoyed a fair season by winning third place in the Oregon Collegiate Conference. The Wolves were definitely an up and down club all season, winning eleven games and losing eleven.

Chet Hogan was the only returning letterman from last season's state champion team, and he was inducted into military service at the end of the fall term.

DeLosse Maulding, Ralph Mohler, and Gene Holweger, last year's letterman, returned to school at the beginning of winter term to form the nucleus of the team.

The Wolves ended their season by losing to Portland University at the state tournament held again this year on the Portland University campus.

TEAM

W. A. A. Basketball

Winter basketball season was greeted enthusiastically by many feminine maple court participants.

After several practices six house teams were organized. A single elimination tournament was played with the Wolverines reigning as house champions. The Wolverine team members were: Lois Loosley, Natalie Holm, Hortense Truchot, Terry Hubbard, Dorothy Larkin, and Hazel Reddick, captain.

Having completed a successful house team tournament, class teams were chosen. A round-robin tournament was arranged with the Seniors nosing out the Freshmen and Juniors.

The class games proved to have a tang of rivalry which was increased by the close scores of the games: Freshmen 14, Seniors 22; Seniors 18, Juniors 17; Freshmen 19, Juniors 15.

The champion Senior team personnel included: Captain Bonnie Greer, Dorothy Larkin, Marget Syverson, Barbara Ruef, Hortense Truchot, Dee Foster, Natalie Holm, V'Ona Schlappi, and Jewell Hendrickson.

JUNIOR TEAM

FRESHMAN TEAM

Baseball

With only two lettermen on hand from last season's aggregation, O.C.E.'s baseball hopes were not too bright at the beginning practices. Charles Phelps, slugging centerfielder, and Gene Holweger, first baseman, lead the Wolves into the attack.

A crop of Freshmen and last year's reserves filled in the gaps in the team.

Players that reported during the first weeks of practice were Charles Phelps, Gene Holweger, Loren Kernes, Pete Macnab, Ralph Yocum, Leonard Garmire, Herbert Schlappi, Archie Dunsmoor, John Purcell, Alfred Thiesan, Wayne Winters, Jim Kirk, "Doc" Phelps, Harold Fox, "Mag" Syverson, Charles Holt, and Melvil Duff.

Games were played with Mount Angel, Reed College, Pacific College, and the State Penitentiary in Salem.

Number 13 wasn't unlucky for Pete

Girl's Tumbling

For the past year Jewel Hendrickson has led the W.A.A. Tumbling squad through three terms of practicing.

The primary aim of the tumbling team is the enjoyment of the sport. Most of the girls learned all of the stunts during fall and winter terms and then presented two programs between halves of the conference basketball games.

About fifteen girls were on the squad. They will receive twenty-five points for each program if they have attended the necessary number of practices.

Women's Tennis

The girls' tennis team was chosen from the following girls: Gloria Gebers, Molly Horton, Terry Hubbard, Barbara Peterson, Marjorie Rieck, Barbara Ruef and Barbara Jean Smith. Matches were played with Reed College, Willamette University, Linfield College, and the University of Oregon. A successful season was enjoyed and some fine tennis was played.

Men's Tennis

When C. Robert Laxson, new tennis coach this year, rounded up all of the tennis team prospects at the beginning of the season he found that he had but one veteran, Magnus Syverson. Other members of the team were: Charles Wilbur, Richard Taylor, Miles Olson, Donald Gregg, Lynn Mallet, Melvin Irving, and Charles Holt.

Matches were played with University of Oregon, Pacific University, Linfield College, Reed College, and Pacific College.

Volleyball

The Freshman class volleyball team became the champions of the W.A.A. class volleyball tournament Thursday evening, December 4, when they won their final game from the Juniors by a score of 47 to 20.

Organizations

The Choir

The Choir, thirty strong, directed by Mrs. Florence White Hutchinson, has had a very active and enjoyable year. This year for the first time the choir members were graded and given credit hours for their efforts.

This organization entertained the student body by presenting a concert Fall Term and conducted their annual Christmas Vesper service. They also gave two concerts in Salem, one for the Elks' Lodge and one for the meeting of the city superintendents of the state. During Spring Term they appeared at the Education Conference and the Baccalaureate services.

MRS. FLORENCE WHITE HUTCHINSON
Director

Crimson "O"

The Crimson "O" Players, dramatic club of the campus, have presented three one-act plays each term for the appreciation of the students and for the cultivation of dramatic ability.

Alumni members of Crimson "O" were honored at a banquet held at the Monmouth Hotel during Homecoming weekend.

Club members enjoyed the entertainment provided by the initiates who masqueraded at a party held in the Recreation Hall during the winter term.

Two groups of Crimson "O" members acted as judges in Amity at an amateur night and a play night.

"Great Minds," a comedy by William A. Kimball, was presented in Salem for the entertainment of the Elks Lodge and their families.

"In a Blue Moon," a drama by Ernestine M. Songer, won distinction for the organization and school by placing second in the intercollegiate dramatic contest at the University of Portland.

Chorus

The chorus, efficiently directed by Mrs. Florence Hutchinson, is composed of thirty-five women students. Although no academic credit is given for chorus, students join for the value and enjoyment of singing.

This year the chorus sponsored the Christmas assembly, held in the library; sang several numbers at an assembly during winter term; and during spring term contributed four numbers to the Sunday morning services of the First Baptist Church of Independence, Oregon. Vera Mae Larson is their accompanist.

Omicran Pi Omega

Omicran Pi Omega is a campus social organization whose membership is confined to the older women students, many of whom are experienced teachers. During the summer sessions the membership is especially large when former students and other teachers from the field enroll for advanced professional courses.

Each term of the year the organization plans various social affairs for the enjoyment of the faculty and student members.

The social highlight of the year was the formal with the couples swaying through the make-believe garden to the music of Johnny Lamberty.

A dramatization of Sadie Hawkins' Day origin won for the dorm second prize in the Campfire Skit Contest.

"Fem" nights, firesides, banquets, and picnics are just a few of the many things which make Jolly Todd the friendliest spot on the campus.

The "House-Mother," Miss Swenson, has made Jessica Todd a "home" for all the girls who reside there and when sympathy or advice is needed she's always to be found.

With the exception of a few "old standbys" the gang at West House was composed chiefly of fellows new to the house this year. Nine names graced the roster Fall term, and this number was doubled Winter term and nearly tripled Spring term.

The trend has been more toward individual social activities which results in a scarcity of collectively sponsored events. The fellows collaborated with the Jessica Todd troupe in a few instances however.

Not for quite some time has West House been as "athletically minded" as this year, for Winter term nearly every aspirant for basketball fame was "one of the boys."

During the week of our "silver thaw" West House served as the gathering place for most of O.C.E.'s "cafe society," and a splendid time was had by all, with such primitive lighting methods as candles, and such entertainments as cards and dancing.

InterVarsity

This organization is one of many chapters located on college campuses throughout the world for the purpose of promoting Christian fellowship.

InterVarsity members have shown exceptional support of their group throughout the year. In December a number of students attended the State Intersivity Christian Fellowship Conference at Corvallis. A still larger group attended the spring conference at Silver Creek Falls, and played an important part at this meeting.

Singing of hymns and choruses followed by a discussion or a speaker comprise most of the weekly meetings. Speakers this year included not only religious leaders from other cities but also members of the O.C.E. faculty.

During fall term Intersivity presented an evening service at the local Baptist church in addition to the regular meetings.

Camp Fire Girls

Time: 1951—The Annual Skit Night.

Student: When did the Camp Fire Girls originate this clever idea?

Faculty Member: I believe it was back in 1941. That school year saw the beginning of many of our annual customs: for example, the Camp Fire Girls' bazaar held every Christmas, and the Easter Egg Hunt for the Associated Students.

The spring of 1942 the girls began work on their cabin on the Luckiamute River. That cabin is now one of the most popular meeting places for the Camp Fire Girls.

Much of the credit for this lively group should go to Miss Hilda Swenson who was guardian of the group during the Fall and Winter terms for the 1941-42 school year. Miss Ruth Lautenbach became the guardian in the spring of '42, continuing the fine spirit and work of the Camp Fire Girls.

Collecto Coeds

Collecto Coeds, service organization for women students of the Oregon College of Education, is limited to fifteen girls elected on the basis of leadership, cooperation, and school spirit shown. It originated as a group to promote athletic enthusiasm and has since branched out into different service fields.

The annual Sweetheart Ball is a major campus activity. This year Collectos chose Loren Kernes as their sweetheart.

Homecoming found them busy providing "mums" for the game. Ushering at concerts and other campus programs as well as checking student body cards at games and dances also keep these girls busy.

Exchange dinners and entertainments with the Daughters of Tradition of Linfield College highlighted the year's activities.

Mrs. Phoebe Cox is advisor.

Wolf Knights

The Wolf Knights, service honorary for campus men, is limited to a select group of fifteen members. This year it has been increasingly difficult to keep the membership at the maximum number because of the fellows going into the armed forces. This year's members now in training include Chester Hogan, Merrill McKern, Glenn Burch, Hal Hoon, and Bill Wiest.

Under the leadership of Dr. Willis B. Merriam, the club participated in several events throughout the year. The Wolf Knights assumed responsibility for half time stunts at basketball games and sponsored a student dance each term. One of the highlights of the year was the Wolf Knight assembly at which time a stretcher was presented to the school from the organization.

Members include: Archie Dunsmoor, Wilbur Nance, Al Neet, Wilbur Birdsall, Tom Wilson, Loren Kernes, Charles Phelps, Ray Buell, Wayne Winters, Dick Taylor, Bill Albin, and Dr. Merriam, advisor.

Staff and Key

Staff and Key is one of the two women's service organizations on the campus and consists of twenty-three members. Girls who are elected into the club are chosen on their grade point average, at least a 2.5, general recognition about the campus, and their value to the organization. The purpose of the club is that of service to the school and enrichment of school activities.

A review of the outstanding events in the year of 1942 sponsored by Staff and Key are as follows: gave three all school dances, provided a dance each term for members and their guests, served refreshments after Homecoming game in the fall, helped in the sale of faculty cards, sponsored a big candy sale to raise funds for treasury, provided a tennis court dance spring term, also a style show spring term, and finally, sponsored card parties for faculty members and business men of Monmouth.

Now, at this time Staff and Key wishes to say to all its graduating members of the past year, "Good-bye, and Good Luck!"

Archery Club

The Toxopholites, whose membership is chosen from the students showing a keen interest for Archery, began the year with a new rule to the effect that scores for thirty-six arrows should be turned in by each member at every meeting.

During Winter Term the club sponsored student participation in the National Tournament.

In the spring, members shot in the outdoor State Tournament.

The club's social activities for the year consisted of initiation parties, and a "Robin Hood" picnic in the spring.

Pen and Parchment

The purpose of "Pen and Parchment" is to further creative writing on the campus. During the year the meetings were enlivened with speakers and the reading of manuscripts. New to the calendar this year was the sponsoring of the Ted Olson Poetry Contest.

The initiation of new members and the acquiring of club pins were two new features of the club.

Women's Sextet and Trio

This popular small ensemble was organized in the fall of 1940 and has been directed since then by Florence Coardy Merriam, special instructor in music.

During the first year of its existence the sextet made several school appearances, and the trio served as a popular number on programs for high school programs.

In the fall of 1941 the trio and sextet were reorganized with Betty Jean De-Armond, Hope Rumbaugh, and Mary Steward as the trio, augmented by Virginia Stovall, Dorothy Spencer, and Dorothy Johnson. Natalie Holm, Shirley Moeck Krueger, and Evelyn Treacy were alternates who attended rehearsals regularly, learned all the music, and stood ready to replace a regular member at a moment's notice in case of her inability to sing a performance.

This year the sextet and trio presented a home concert each term, usually featuring special staging and lighting arrangements. Their repertoire is large and varied, from light popular to sacred music and from standard concert numbers to madrigals.

Numerous appearances were made in Monmouth, Salem, Dallas, and Independence. Trips to the University of Portland and to Bend were repeated again this year, the girls sang at the O.S.T.A. meetings in Portland, and made a four day trip to Seattle where they appeared on a radio broadcast from station K.O.L. They also sang for the banquet of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, and made several appearances at Fort Lawton and Fort Lewis under the auspices of the United Service Organization.

This was the reason they sang so well together.

Band

Enthusiasm and faithful attendance at rehearsals have contributed greatly to the progress of the Band this year. Having a regular place in the daily schedule has proved a stimulus to regularity of practice and furnished gratifying improvement in intonation and balance. Activities outside of class have included assembly programs, civic functions, entertainment and "esprit de corps" provided at basketball games, and music for the commencement exercises.

Ensemble groups from the Band have also made numerous out of school appearances during the year. An expanding repertoire and continuing interest in instrumental music points toward a successful organization next year.

Nelson Hall

The twenty-eight girls of Nelson Hall, largest dormitory off the campus, made valuable contributions to the activities of our college.

We have enjoyed a successful year of group activities which included our Halloween and Christmas parties. An outdoor potluck dinner brought to a close our year of friendly companionship.

To Mrs. C. W. Allen, our house mother, we extend our gratitude for her friendly and cooperative spirit.

The Freshman class skyrocketed to recognition from the other classes of O.C.E. It was agreed by all that the Freshman class of 1941-42 was the best and most outstanding class in many a year.

The Rooks erected the traditional Homecoming bonfire in spite of the sabotage by the Junior class. The unique "Frosh Fall Fling" was enjoyed by the whole student body, and was almost equaled by the Education Conference Dance which proved to be a highlight for our student body as well as for the Alumni.

If all following Freshman classes continue in the same strong footsteps of this class, then O.C.E. will long hail as mid-Willamette's best.

Mounting the second flight of stairs after completing the first one agily, the one time Freshmen assumed the role of full-fledged Juniors.

The first main item on the list was the upholding of campus traditions by inflicting "beanies" and ribbons upon the incoming Rooks. The next big undertaking was to put on a Winter formal. Lack of funds complicated this situation. Being Juniors, they arose to the occasion and realizing the lack of male creatures on the campus, sponsored an Inter-collegiate dance. This was the first and perhaps the only time there were more men than women attending a dance on this campus.

As this class finishes its role as Juniors, each one looks forward to a year of intense training to become one in the great profession for which they have been preparing during the past two years. Each class member's goal is now within reach. They look forward with sure confidence of success.

This year will present golden opportunities never before offered to any graduating class of the Oregon College of Education. In years past many prospective teachers had cause to wonder about teaching opportunities, but this year with defense industries causing an acute shortage in the teaching profession anyone who desires a position in "our chosen field" should definitely have his desires fulfilled.

With three years of their college careers completed, the only regrets any of them have is leaving the place that has been more than just a school to them. It has been their home with all its joys and sorrows.

The senior class had a varied amount of activities throughout the school year, with the highlight being the only all-school formal of the year presented during Fall Term. It was under the capable leadership of Eleanor Bechtel. The theme of the dance was "Thanksgiving Silhouettes."
